

Contents

OCTOBER 2010

via Mike Jerram

42

4 Chairman's Column

'Fit for purpose'. By George Done

5 AOPA Working for You

Late bid to save the IMC rating; CAA enforcement charges likely to rise; Birmingham joins Strasser Scheme; UAS rules being thrashed out at ICAO; CAA clarifies regulation on passenger carriage; UK pilots weigh in to help AOPA Germany save an airfield; Manston TMZ proposal; Sandown closes; should we start spin training again?

16 Training crisis

The major commercial FTOs get together to try to turn the tide that threatens to swamp UK flight training. Pat Malone reports

18 Trains crisis

The CAA's Chief Executive Andrew Haines talks to Pat Malone about his life and times, and where GA fits into his thinking

22 Briefings

ATPL at 18; Red Bull to take a year off; Frank Robinson hangs up his slide rule; Women in Aviation conference; global gyrocopter flight postponed

25 Can the pilot fly?

Airline pilot and GA instructor Ian Marshall points out the dangers of ever-increasing automation

6

Jiffreeland

18

Cover story:

26 My Frati fighter

Meet the cute little Italian number with which Geoffrey Boot fell in love; despite its occasionally Italian temperament

30 Flight test:

Robinson R66

Richard Mornington Sanford becomes one of the first to convert to Robinson's long-awaited turbine helicopter

35 Letters to the editor

IMC rating abroad; Islander memories; radio licence costs; Humberside prices

36 View from the top

Display pilot Cliff Spink talks to Pat Malone about his extraordinary career in military and civil aviation

42 The first VLJ?

Don't even try to guess – it was the Morane-Saulnier Paris, as Mike Jerram explains

46 Flying somewhere new

AOPA Israel members find their way to the former Soviet republic of Georgia, and come back besotted. By Yoram Avtaby

48 Piper's immortal Cub

Will the 74-year-old Piper Cub become the first aircraft that will live for ever? David Ogilvy sings her praises

26

Austin Brown

30

36

46

48